

Ms. Yang Yuyang (杨宇洋)

Secretary – World Federation of Acupuncture-Moxibustion Societies

Professional Biography

Ms. Yang Yuyang (杨宇洋) is an international affairs officer and academic coordinator working in the field of acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM). She currently serves as Secretary of the World Federation of Acupuncture-Moxibustion Societies (WFAS), where she is responsible for coordinating international cooperation and supporting the organization’s global academic activities.

In her role at WFAS, Ms. Yang contributes to the coordination of international communication between member organizations, academic institutions, and professional associations involved in acupuncture and traditional medicine. Her work supports the development of global collaboration, academic exchange, and professional training programs in acupuncture.

She has also been actively involved in organizing international conferences and academic forums related to Traditional Chinese Medicine, contributing to the expansion of international cooperation and the strengthening of professional networks within the global acupuncture community.

Academic and Leadership Positions

- Secretary, World Federation of Acupuncture-Moxibustion Societies

Professional Expertise

- International cooperation in acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine

- Coordination of international academic activities and conferences
- Organization of global acupuncture congresses and forums
- International training and education programs in acupuncture
- Development of global partnerships and professional networks

International Academic Activities

Ms. Yang Yuyang actively participates in international academic coordination activities through her role at the World Federation of Acupuncture-Moxibustion Societies. Her responsibilities include organizing international acupuncture congresses, facilitating academic exchanges, and supporting global education and training initiatives in acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine.

Areas of Academic Interest

- International cooperation in acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine
- Academic conference organization and coordination
- Global education and training programs in acupuncture
- Development of international professional networks in acupuncture

International Contributions

Through her work at the World Federation of Acupuncture-Moxibustion Societies, Ms. Yang Yuyang contributes to strengthening international cooperation in acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine. Her work supports the organization of global academic conferences, international training programs, and collaborative initiatives among acupuncture institutions worldwide.

Keynote Profile

Ms. Yang Yuyang plays an important role in the international coordination and administrative activities of the World Federation of Acupuncture-Moxibustion Societies. Her work focuses on facilitating global academic cooperation, organizing international acupuncture conferences, and supporting educational programs that promote the development of acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine worldwide.